*Due to the current coronavirus pandemic, the NGA are advising that governor elections should not be held at the current time. They advise that it is sensible for elected governors to remain in post after their term of office expires, until such a time as an election can be held. The Governing Body agreed to extend the term of office for Erica Pickering and Sue Barlow as parent governors, and Abigail Farmer as staff governor until an election can be held, and asked that their term of office is extended until 18th April 2021.
